Fingertips collects your personal data on the order form in order to fulfil our contractual obligation to complete your work.

Your personal details – data collection

To register for an account with Fingertips, you are required to supply your company name, your name, address, telephone number, email address and web address (if applicable). This information will be added to the Fingertips customer database and used for invoicing purposes. The telephone number is used to contact you in the event of unpaid invoices and for work-related reasons. The email address is used to send invoices and correspondence to you.

File transfer system

The file transfer page is a secure system. A separate privacy document regarding this is available on request.

Any audio and text files which are not deleted manually on completion of work will be automatically removed after 30 days.

Data Retention

Your data will be stored in the customer database for six months after completion of your work, provided all contractual obligations have been fulfilled. After six months your data will be removed unless you are an ongoing, recurring client and specifically opt in to having your data stored on the database indefinitely.

Data sharing

Fingertips will not pass your personal details to any third party.

Who can access your information?

Only the Data Controller has regular access to the database. A member of staff may be given temporary access if it is necessary when the Data Controller is not available.

The sub-contractor working on your file may become aware of your name, company, etc, if they are mentioned in the audio you provide, or on your letterheads/templates, etc.

Occasionally, a sub-contractor and client may need direct contact to clarify work-related queries. Specific permission will be obtained from both before any information is shared, and the information shared will be restricted to whatever is necessary, for example telephone number if a conversation is needed.

You can ask to know what personal information Fingertips holds for you at any time. Requests should be sent to the Data Controller.

If at any time you would like your details to be deleted from our database, please contact the Data Controller.

You may withdraw your consent at any time by contacting the Data Controller.
